THE CANDID CAMERA YEAR-
BOOK... WORDS AND PICTURES
OF HAPPENINGS AND EVENTS
DURING THE SCHOOL YEAR.

AUSTIN HIGH SCHOOL
CHICAGO ILLINOIS

MAROON AND WHITE

OF NINETEEN THIRTY-SIX

FOREWORD

Time marches on, and we go forward to achieve, create, and take our places in the world.

It has become an Austin tradition during over a quarter of a century for a group of seniors to produce an "Annual"—a memory book of the year for the years to come.

To the present group, of course, 1936 seems an epochal year. It is an epochal year—the year of "our graduation".

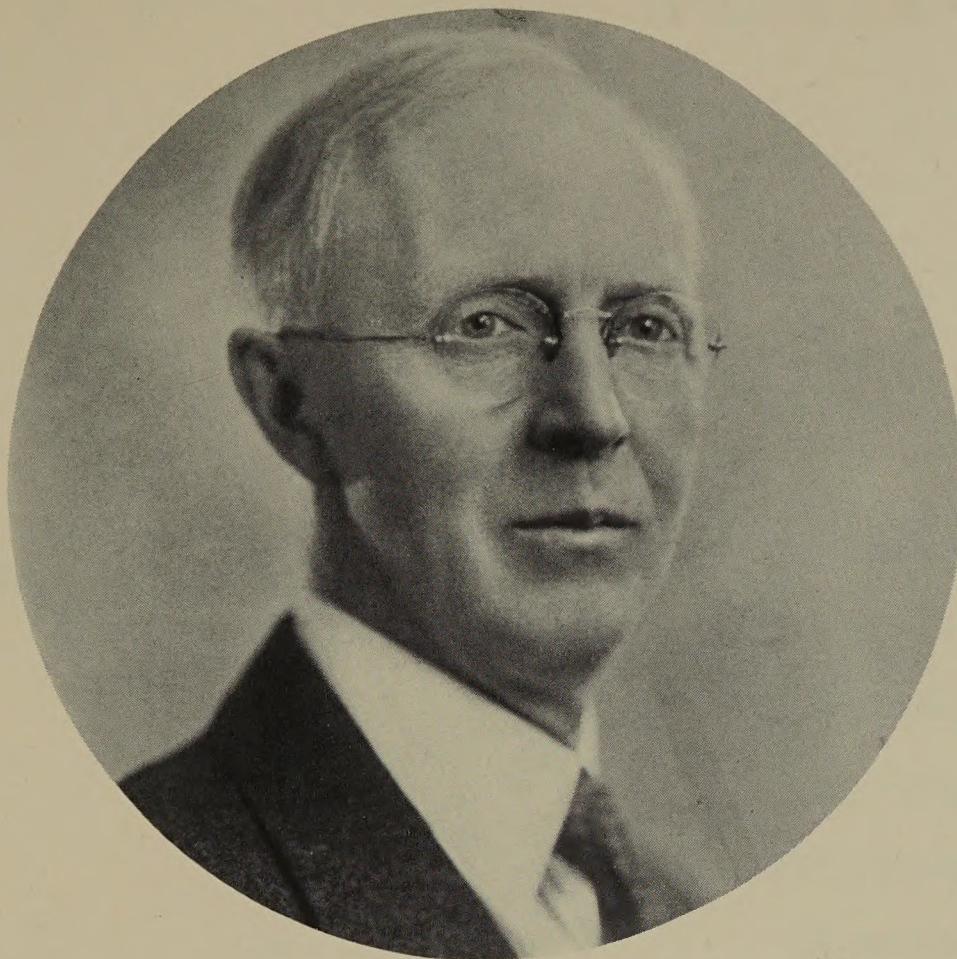

It is the sincere hope of the editors that their efforts, arduous efforts, may win the acclaim of their class-mates and contribute both to the final joys of this year and of the years to come when often in retrospect we will relive high school days.

More vividly, we hope, with the aid of this "Maroon and White"!

The Staff makes special acknowledgment to Mr. D. A. Mitchell, representing the Wallace-Miller Engravers, Mr. Ray Willis, photographer, Mr. Al Engdahl of the Engdahl Bindery, and the Fred Klein Company, Printers, with particular gratitude to Mr. William Niehaus, Mr. Emmett Polansky, and their associates.

THE WEST BUILDING

Those long, clean corridors where we briskly walked along shoulder to shoulder from class to class and then stepped out, at the end of the day, into the cool shade of those giant trees—remember?

For a half century the tower of the "old building" has been one of the landmarks of the West Side and still stands to beckon students entering upon their high school career. Remember those freshmen days?

Principal's Message

Our America is and has been characterized by rapid growth and development. During the last decade many profound social, and economic changes have taken place. These changes reflect a world wide situation of drastic social reorganization. During this decade our own country has continued to go forward.

Within this period the city of Chicago has given to our Austin community one of the finest modern school buildings to be found in the country. This monument of brick and steel and stone is really an exemplification of the faith of our American citizenship in youth. During this decade our Austin High School has reorganized its courses in order that every boy and every girl may have a wide choice in objectives. The community and the school have at all times worked together for the common good.

We of the faculty of the Austin High School in bidding farewell to you, our graduates, realize that the leaders of our present world have derived their leadership from the inspiration which our public schools have given them in the decades of the past. We feel that we may safely entrust to you, our youth of the present, the conduct of our America in the future.

AMONG OUR TEACHERS

'Twas in December the teachers at a banquet at the Carlton held "Graduation Exercises" in honor of retiring members of the faculty—Miss Herrick, Miss Cook, Miss Church, Mr. Burns, Mr. Cable, and Mr. Steffens. Mr. Tiernan is pictured above, next to Miss Herrick at the festive board, officiating as toastmaster. The quartet: Mr. Butler, Mr. McVey, Mr. McComb, Mr. Sonquist.—Above, too: Miss Pellens coming in out of one of those record cold February days. Mr. Roth pausing to tell more about his Michigan home. Mr. Craig, Mr. Leach, Mr. Feddersen, Mr. Little, all in cheerful mood. Mr. Beck and Mr. Bristol more grimly pictured. Twice shown, did you notice, Miss Craven, with and without books?

SHADOWS ON THE CAMPUS

The leaves drift down on the campus
The moon gives a spectral glow . . .
While here and there in the shadows
The ghosts of the graduates go . . .

They always come out on nights like this
And talk of days that are gone.
They gather round in little groups
That cover the campus lawn.

They hate to leave the place they love,
Each class adds to their hosts.
A part of each grad never goes away,
But joins the ranks of the ghosts.

Wait and watch when the moon is full.
Your wait must be quiet and long.
Their voices some like the wind in the trees.
Then you see their shadowy throng.

Athletes and scholars and teachers,
Chatting of sun dusted days.
Many a campus immortal
You see in that memoried haze.

The leaves drift down on the campus
The moon gives a spectral glow . . .
While here and there in the shadows
The ghosts of the graduates go.

"We have crossed the bay; the ocean lies before us!"

Fortified by this motto, the members of the class of '35½ prepared to encounter the difficulties and pleasures of life. The high ideals established and maintained by its members gave added impetus toward the lofty goal they seem destined to achieve. A friendly spirit was ever present among these classmates while they worked together and enjoyed the social phases of their four years in Austin.

Many unusual feats were accomplished by members of this class during their enrollment in this school. Johnny Mesch slid across the finish line in the mile race in time to break the city high school record for ice skating. Herman, better known as Junior, Wiegman set a goal for would-be drum majors to aim at when he won the National baton twirling contest for three successive years.

Perhaps these names will remain prominent in news of the next quarter of a century. On the other hand, those names, not so prominently displayed on these pages may be the head line makers of the future.

However, if the class continues its high standards, it will reach a new high.

The graduates of '36 bid farewell to the most joyous journey youth can provide.

It was in the year of '32 that we boarded the S. S. Austin. Oh, what a ship! What a crew! Excitement, confusion, and turmoil crouched over us like the monster of the sea on which we traveled, but when day was done, who were we? FRESHIES

The sun rose on our second year.

This caused the mist to disappear.

No greater hospitality or opportunity has ever been offered than by the S. S. Austin. We were taught the value of real friendship.

The last year!! Activities surrounding us made our work a pleasure. Class officers and committees were elected which made plans for our final week of the voyage with Gordon Pershell as Captain.

The most distinguished promenade of the voyage took place previous to our docking. Girls and boys were at their peak for the Prom.

Class Day, as well as the Prom, will linger in our hearts forever. Commencement night brought us our diplomas in Rockwood Hall. It was not until the last few minutes of this night that we fully realized what graduation meant. It was good-bye to the class. The last good-bye made fear of lonesomeness lodge in everyone's heart.

Not one of us would trade these four years of fond memories of our bon voyage for man's greatest gift.

THE CLASS OF '36 1/2

Time has marched on! Twelve years have passed and we find ourselves in radio station W-I-N witnessing the long-awaited first perfected television broadcast. Looking about audience we recognize Margaret Stevenson, Loreine White, Harold Vertel, Audrey Heckart, Pauline Bloom, and Burton Balsam, all apparently successful in their chosen work.

In glass-enclosed room Chief Technician and Television expert Carol Keating is arranging for broadcast with announcer Jack Sainsbury. Signal flashes and a hush falls on audience. Eminent surgeon Robert Brooks gives welcoming speech and introduces guests of honor, Professor John Schroeder and well-known concert singer Jewel Merley.

Yokum Brothers, hill-billy trio, Bill Manus, David Hessel, and Vernon Gerth render George Fisher's latest popular song hit. The orchestra, conducted by Harold Doolittle and featuring Vincent Allegrini, solo violinist, pours out its music and receives a large ovation. Ray Schlieben, Fred Neumann, Lee Niems, Anna Pokedoff, Gilbert Bauer, and Anita Blum are members. Adelyn Reiling performs an intricate tap dance accompanied by the renowned pianist Geraldine Rogers.

Lorraine Vrooman, Janet Glamore, Dorothy Melamerson, and Verla Melski, prominent in the promotion of higher education, are introduced. A party of late-comers enter, among them Anne Louise Torkelson, Nobel Prize Winner; Dorothy Lovell, movie star; Louise Heinecke, and Robert Barrett, mathematicians; Gertrude Shadley, dress designer; Constance Nelson, psychologist; Leota Coumbe, aviatrix; and Ruth Helmholz, social service worker.

Program continues with Jimmie "Jingle" Keyes, side-splitting comedian. Audience is in uproar and ushers Bruce McMasters and Art Mascarello are forced to remove Helen Jean Childs, victim of hysteria. She is quickly revived, however, by efficient studio hostess, Jeanette Hoehn who deftly administers Geshner's Sparkling Seltzer Cure-All. Returning to the studio we find Producer Gloria Church presenting one-act drama with Robert Viehman and Annette Booth in leading roles. The villain is Harold Becker. The scenery was designed by Thelma Johnson and Bessie Rasenick, the dialogue arranged by Warren Gallagher. The Male Chorus, conducted by Stedman Witt with members Andrew Bougas, Robert Cass, Harry Miners, Lester Clark, Quentin Mangion, Melvin Rose, and Pete Trittipo, sings classical numbers. Concluding speech by Leonard Narens and program comes to a brilliant close with audience singing "The Star Spangled Banner" led by Betty Kautz.

March on, Time!

THE CLASS OF '37

The world seemed so dull and monotonous as I sat in the twilight of my dimly lighted hotel room in downtown Chicago. I had no really true friends except those I had known 13 years ago at Austin High School. I had seen none of the gay crowd for many years, and I would have given anything to attend another football game or social.

In this state of mind I picked up a newspaper. A familiar name caught my eye,—yes, it was Mr. Warren Wagner, in the limelight again; but for a different reason this time. The article underneath said that in a town in Illinois there was a group of renowned and famous people who had formed a colony for the purpose of enjoying life together. The members were the alumni of the famous class of '37. Mr. Wagner was the newly elected mayor of this unique colony.

The article continued that this was sort of a second Hollywood, as it consisted of some of the most outstanding people of the world.

For instance there was, Dorothie Cutler, champion swimmer, Bette Seiler, the famous author, Roy Fountain, Wendell Westerdahl, and Art Lopatka, world's renowned athletes, June Purper, the famous orator, and Evelyn Mesch, star bike rider.

I could read no further. I shut my eyes and imagined myself among my old friends. Soon I was sailing through the air on a magic carpet. Finally I landed in the front yard of a dear little cottage. As I knocked at the door a familiar face greeted me. It was my old chum Arlette Thomas. She asked me into the living room where she was entertaining a group of friends. Of course, I recognized all of them. They were: Ethel Zack, Ruth Halls, LaVerne Winters, Jeanette Hallman, Evelyn Koretos, Harriet Shultz, and Marjorie Cundiff. After talking over old times, for more than an hour, we decided to go to the aristocratic J. M. Casino, as they said I would have a big surprise in store.

The large electric sign almost blinded my eyes as I read the words "Joe Murphy presents Carlitos and Margarita, with Bill St. Clair's Orchestra." I was very eager to go inside to see this famous dancing team I had heard so much about.

As I handed my coat to the hatcheck girl I looked into the pretty face of Betty Heurlen. After exchanging greetings we were ushered to a table by none other than Helen Erickson. I recognized, Mollie Footlic, Muriel Stupner, Corrine Stueben, and Miriam Stein sitting at a table directly across from us. After we had given our order to Bob (red sails) Hanson, it was announced the floor show was ready to begin.

I stared in awe at the smooth dancing of this famous team. To my astonishment as I looked into their faces I recognized these people were none other than Maxine Ashbrook and Charles Jenkins. I was so anxious to see them, I ran back stage. There, ready to go in their neat little costumes were: Alberta Norton, Amy Shellene and Virginia Trott.

What's this I see! Four walls, and a vague realization of my awakening.

Wah-hoo! A call from the distance! A speck of dust on the horizon—closer and closer it comes! Across the Western plains toward old Austin Bar X Ranch gallop a group of young riders, Bob Gartung, Gladys Hansen, Bob McKenzie, Lois Kolb, James Bruski, Helen Maltby, and Jane Olsen.

Bang, bang! Shooting guns in welcome, Donald Riess, Walter Jordan, Jack Shaffer, Lawrence Cohen, Robert Frey, Sanford Skor, and James Anderson, the ranch cowboys come out of the bunk-house.

In the doorway of the house appear Marjorie Dimplefield, Dorothy Jenista, and Norman Johnson, and friendly greetings fill the air.

By the time the arriving party has turned their horses in the corral and all have passed into the gaily decorated barn, bedecked by Rodger Fairley, Matt Sutter, and Roger Davis, most of the other guests have arrived. The first dance was a Virginia Reel, in which Jane Foster, Jane Easterday, Ruth Rieger, Helen Coles, Robert Brown, Kenneth Baldwin, William Grieve, and Tony Monaco took part. The orchestra, which was composed of Kenneth Koepke, Joe Benson, Jim Jordan, William Forester, Elaine Schuett, Ruth Kater, and Grace Knudson accompanied the dancers.

Next everyone joined in a rousing square-dance, to the tune of William Forester's fiddle.

A sweet Western song is then sung by Dorothy Zussin and Molly Newman.

Time is taken out for sandwiches, doughnuts, and apple cider, served by those dainty waitresses, Lucille Behrens, Muriel Aldinger, Evelyn Miller, Dolly Gibson, Mildred Franzen, Urith Peterson, Dolores Karr, and Shirley Nichols.

Earle Haley entertains with a few comical barn yard calls.

The barn dance closes with an exciting game of Farmer in the Dell started by Fred Johnson. Some others to be seen in the game are Alys Enquist, Herbert Zapfe, Florence Clarence, Roland Jackal, Lillian Anderson, Ray Dubach, and Leola Coston.

The party breaks up as the guests ride away by the light of the prairie moon. Echoing from the far off purple mountains comes a last "Wahoo" as another gay party of the class of '37 ½ is ended.

It's but a small part of Austin, the Hay Branch, yet there are many who will ever remember it affectionately. Look at these pictures as fair samples of the life and esprit-de-corps at Hay. For zestful Freshmen, promptly loyal Austinites, a bunch that shows real school spirit—see the Hay Branchites, or their Austin Times, Junior, any issue, or the photos on these two pages!

The Student Council is the highest student government group of the school. Through the commissioners of this council all the school activities are governed.

The boy and girl presidents of the C. I. C.; the four upper class presidents; the G. A. A. president; the Varsity "A" president; the Interclub president; a representative of the Times; and a representative of the R. O. T. C. constitute the membership of the Student Council.

The officers of the council are a chairman, one of the C. I. C. presidents, a vice-president, the president of the graduating class; a scribe, the Times representative; and seven commissioners, who are each responsible for a certain phase of school life. For example, the Interclub commissioner has charge of all clubs and their activities.

Miss Iser was again the faculty adviser and in all ways devoted aid of the council, the Interclub and the C. I. C.

To create a spirit of friendliness among the clubs has been the aim of Interclub, the organization made up of all club presidents.

The projects of this "club of all clubs" have been the arranging the meeting days of the various school organizations, drawing up of a completely new code of laws, and helping to secure larger membership for each club by arranging for Club Activity Day at the beginning of each semester. In the last year Club Activity helped almost all of the clubs gain a larger membership than ever before.

Austin's largest student organization, the Civic Industrial Club, includes the majority of the student body in its membership and plays an active part in all school affairs. Student Aid funds and Red Cross drives are among the tasks handled by the C. I. C. officers and the section delegates.

An attractive gold or silver crested pin was chosen this year and the sale was carried on during section periods in the Civic room.

Christmas boxes, filled by Austin students anxious to make the day more enjoyable for old folks at Oak Forest, were collected in great numbers by Miss Hazel Rylander and members of her section.

A special appeal from the Red Cross for money to relieve those left homeless by the eastern floods was met heartily and an unusually large sum was received. C. I. C. deputies collected the money after a special session of the Student Congress aroused interest.

Hallowe'en never failed to arouse a spirited celebration at Austin. The appropriate name of Zip Day was selected last year. Traditionally Austin students look forward to that day of shortened periods, socials, costumes and general merriment. To climax the unusual day prizes were given to those wearing the most original, historical, funniest and prettiest costumes, Zip Day proved as lively as its name.

The Student Congress is the "house of representatives" of the school, its membership consisting of one representative from each section.

The purpose of this student congress is to discuss the school's problems and to work out plans to better student self-government in the school.

There are 174 members and they meet together twice a month to discuss ways and means.

Miss Iser, chairman of the English department, has been the chief adviser and she has been present at all meetings to offer encouragement and suggestions.

After the student congress members have agreed upon a certain motion they place their bill before the student council, which examines the bill before it goes to the principal for final approval.

The Open Forum has, for the past few years been one of Austin's leading clubs. Organized in the fall of 1935, it has expanded until it now has a membership of over 150.

During the last school year speakers on a variety of topics were guests of the "Forum".

The League of Nations, Dictators of Europe, Hypnotism, and the City Manager Plan were but a few of the subjects discussed.

The "Forum" met every other Friday and often had student prepared programs. After the speakers were done there was always an open floor discussion.

Mr. Raymond Lussenhop, advisor, maintained his enthusiastic interest in the Open Forum, and worked hard to build up and spread interest in the club.

Students who are on the Super-honor Roll at least one marking period of each semester are eligible to join the Astral Club. If they keep up this standard every semester they are eligible to renew their membership.

A pin is awarded to super-super students at the end of one semester and another pin at the end of three years if they have continued to be super-super students.

At the regular meetings of the past year entertainment was provided by club members and sometimes a guest speaker was present.

The motive of the Astral Club is to uplift the standard of honor in the school, and to discourage such things as cheating in tests, and cutting classes.

The Law Club, organized in 1930, is one of the largest clubs in school. It has cabinet meetings every Monday, which are composed of eighteen members of various classes. Social meetings are held every other Friday.

A mock trial was held at Manley High School, May 19.

A social was held, the proceeds of which were donated to the fund of sending the commercial students to attend the contest at Champaign, Ill.

Mr. Nichols is the adviser of this club. The officers for the '36 semester were: Leonard Jensen, President; Florence Sommers, Secretary; Tom Chuhak, Treasurer; Bob Beele, Vice-President; and Vernon Cox is the Sgt.-at-Arms.

The Chemistry Club has again proved its worth as a part of Austin's student activities. Originated in 1930, under the direction of Mr. Crew, it became, in a very short time, one of the most popular clubs in the school.

Throughout the past year the meetings have been marked by interesting experiments and lectures. Students and outside speakers lectured on topics concerned with the study of chemistry. Dallas Rigler spoke on "Photography"; Mr. Armove lectured on "Chemistry in Relationship to Pharmacy"; and George Sholder demonstrated and spoke on "Thermite".

The officers for the '36 semester were: John Schroeder, President; John Marschak, Vice-President; Esther Beecher, Secretary; Glenn Wright, Treasurer; and Melvin Rose, Program Chairman.

THE ARCHITECTURAL CLUB

This group is composed of the architects of Austin. It was organized to arouse interest in architecture among the students who are taking this particular course. Its chief function is to keep the members in touch with modern architecture. Credit must be given to the officers and their adviser, Mr. Eugene Jarvis, who has done a lot to keep this club going. These boys have worked hard to find places for the club to visit and should be congratulated for their splendid work. Altogether this organization is a noteworthy group.

This year in the city chess league Austin's team was nosed out by the defending champion Hyde Park 29 to 26. The members of the team were Richard Bodenstab, Roland Jackel, Saul Levin, Jerry Yavitz, Norman Foster, and Frank Mencarini.

Besides playing chess and checkers the club has had many socials and parties for its members.

The sponsors for the club were Mr. Thomas and Mr. Waller. The coach for the chess team is Mr. Rolfe.

The officers are: Roland Jackel, president; Eunice Strehlow, vice-president; Myrtle Heiby, secretary; Richard Bodenstab, treasurer; and Fredrick Past, sergeant-at-arms.

THE LITTLE THEATRE

THE LITTLE THEATRE GROUP founded and directed by Miss Madeleine Glynn has a two-fold purpose:

To train the minority who aspire to carry on professionally in this field,

To help the majority meet the ever-increasing personality demands in the social and business world.

The minimum requirements for enrollment are: G average, a willingness to serve, and a sincere desire for self improvement. Those who have not had previous platform work preferred.

Dramatics 1 is a prerequisite for Dramatics 2. The credit for each course is a 5 period minor.

In order to reward worthy pupils, Miss Glynn is responsible for the founding of Troupe No. 185, affiliated with the National Thespians and the Dramatic Honor Troupe, a life organization.

GO YOU AUSTIN

Go you Austin!
Go you Austin!
Finest school today
We its members,
Should remember
All our good old days.
Rah! Rah! Rah!
Go you Austin!
Go you Austin!
Finest in the land!
Shout fellows shout, and sing
To beat the band.

MAROON AND WHITE RHYTHM

Put on your m'roon and white sweater
With the varsity letter
And we'll all stand up and give a cheer.
For we're rought and tough and famous
And we know that you won't blame us
If we all stand up and cheer.

Put away those old math problems
And chase away those goblins,
For our team's the best in years.
We won't take it on the chin
If we all try hard to win,
Because victory is near.

If they don't slouch in practice
And pass in all their classes,
We're sure to have a winning team.
If they'll listen to this teaching
Then our team won't take a beating,
So let's help them all we can.

AUSTIN CHEER SONG

To Austin High, the school we love,
Let's sing a song of praise;
Tell of her many vict'ries won,
And high her banner raise;
We'll glorify the school we love,
And sing to her with zest,
And show to all the world around
That Austin High is Best.

Keep up good work
So let's join in a cheer
While we're all gathered here,
Cheer for old Austin High
We are ready to fight
For the Maroon and the White of
Dear old Austin High;
For her honor and fame, and her glorious name,
We will fight, every loyal man:
So it's Hail! Hail!
The Gang's all here!
All out for Austin High!

THE CONCERT ORCHESTRA

Jesse A. Robinson

The Concert Orchestra under the direction of Mr. Robinson has spent a busy time this year practicing and perfecting numbers for various appearances. Increasing numbers of players have been applying for positions in the organization and thus it is composed of a select group of Austin students. In the past year it has been built up from a comparatively small group to one of considerable size and caliber.

Officers of the orchestra are: Blanch Rice, president; Leo Durante, vice-president; Anita Blum, secretary; Fred Neuman, librarian; and Helene Maxouris, assistant librarian.

Chief of the Activities of the Concert Orchestra was the Spring Concert held April 17 in Rockwood Hall—the first concert given entirely by an Austin orchestra in five years.

Since 1931, when the Glee Club was organized, it has been a very successful organization under the supervision of Miss Louise Ryerson. At present the membership is sixty. It has not been hard to gather new material because there seems to be a lot of talent in Austin. Once a month a social is held in which members participate in the entertainment. In the annual city contests, Austin's Boys' Glee Club has ranked high. For the past two years here has been an All-Chicago High School Chorus in which Austin has been well represented.

Austin's R. O. T. C. again played an important part in school activities last year. With an enrollment of more than five hundred cadets, headed by Lieutenant-Colonel David Seaholm, Austin's military-minded boys marched and drilled faithfully during the past two semesters.

Efforts were not made in vain, for the faithful members were rewarded by commissions, advancements, medals, and the satisfaction that they themselves received.

THE
SEASON

The Maroon football squad, coached by Mr. Meany, with Mr. Downes as assistant, finished the 1935 season in possession of second place in the West section.

A bad start was all that kept the Austin eleven from capturing the section title, for the local squad was recognized as being the strongest at the close of regular competition.

Injuries played a big part in the narrow defeat suffered by the Maroons, especially those to Harry Thompson, regular end and star kicker of the eleven, and Pete Palumbo, its spark plug quarterback.

In naming the outstanding men of the team, the choice is a difficult one, because all the boys were equal as far as effort and good sportsmanship were concerned. A slight shading in results obtained, however, bring DE CORREVONT, FOXVOG, THOMPSON, RISETTO, PALUMBO, and WEAVER to the fore.

In a well-fought and heart-breakingly close post season grid battle against its traditional rival, Oak Park, the Maroon eleven lost the contest on bad breaks. It may sound like excuses, but the game was of such a nature that the slightest break either way was the deciding factor.

SENIOR — TRACK — JUNIOR

Good track material was well utilized this season by Coach Schmidt. Having been given a fairly large supply of boys with natural ability with whom to work, Mr. Schmidt developed Austin's track and field teams to the place where the juniors captured the city championship and the senior team had the distinction of having one man who placed in three different events.

The junior city championship came as the result of points garnered in the pole-vault, hurdles, dash, 660, and relay events. The senior boy's decathlon feat was to place in the high jump and the low and high hurdles. This championship is all the more pleasant to local fans of the sport in that it is the first in several years for Austin.

FRANK PFOHL, senior high point man, was the all-round champion, with a second place in the high hurdles, a fourth in the low hurdles, and a tie with two others for the third and fourth positions in the high jump.

The Maroon junior team was paced to its city crown by DON OLSEN, who tied the existing record in winning the hurdles and also captured a third place in the 660 yard run.

A junior pole-vaulter, RUBE PERLOW, was the other Austin man to get his name in the winners' column. His efforts were rewarded by a first place tie at the height of 9 feet.

After a season of finishing in positions one-two, JERRY SCHNEIDER and ROSS NOTARO finished in the same order in the city finals; but this time it was in places two-three. Jerry had won the qualifying heat in surprisingly fast time.

From the ranks of Austin's swimming teams comes a name which is already familiar to tank fans throughout the nation. It's the name of AL JACOBSEN, local record holder, one of whose best feats is the lowering of the city mark for the 100-yard breast stroke. Al was always good for points in the regular meets, also.

FRANK HAVLICEK is likewise well remembered by Austin's swimming followers. Frank was a consistent point winner for the senior during the fall season. At his graduation in February, he held the city championship in the 220 free style splash.

Outstanding performer of the junior squad was a flashy newcomer, MARSHALL DOMASH. Domash came through for the local junior mermen with a victory in the 50-yard free style in the spring city meet, as well as points in dual competition.

SENIOR — SWIMMING — JUNIOR

Throughout the past years, Austin has never had any cause to be anything but proud of the records turned in by its stellar (not cellar) swimming teams. Under the direction of Coach Heitman, the Maroon squads have produced many outstanding performers and have always placed high as teams in city competition.

Well balanced teams captured second and fifth places for the seniors and juniors, respectively, in the fall city competition. In the spring meet, the seniors and juniors each tied with Schurz for second place.

The local seniors' record for the 1935-36 swimming year includes victories over Schurz, Amundsen, Lakeview, Crane, and Roosevelt, while the juniors have chalked up wins over Schurz, Amundsen, Lakeview, and two against Roosevelt.

Swimming, like track, is a sport in which the dual meets are not so important. Instead, the teams are rated by performance in the city meets.

B A S E B A L L

Coach Olson's 1936 baseballers started out on the right foot. After a period of careful training, the Maroon nine met the enemy and they were ours, for the locals swept through their first 4 league games undefeated.

All of the diamondmen were good players, and there was plenty of strong reserve strength on which to fall back. Those four straight wins do not, however, tell the story of the calibre of the competition encountered by the locals.

The regulars make a fine team. VITACCO, the captain of the nine, was a standout at his short-stop position, as were BULL at second, FONTAINE at first base, and ANDERSON, the catcher. HANSEN and LOPATKA were the strength of the pitching staff in the early part of the season.

The outfield was well taken care of by DE CORREVONT, FILSON, and TURPIN, while SBERTOLI was tender of the third base spot.

JUNIOR — SKATING — SENIOR

Skating has long been one of Austin's long suits. Many championships have been won, and the teams always finish up in the running. This year's crop of bladesters, under Coach Meany, were no exception, for the seniors took second and the juniors annexed third in the city meet.

An outstanding performer throughout his high school skating career, JOHNNY MESCH, senior captain, topped off his last season with a record-breaking mile. The seniors had bad breaks, with FALK and BARTOLAI each falling when in the lead in their respective heats of the 440. Falk was conceded a good chance to win. Falk, Mesch, Bartolai, and NORTON took second in the relay. Norton also did well in the mile.

KELLENBERGER, the junior captain, took a third in the 880, and with CHAET, LIPSCHULTZ, and NICOPOLOUS also took third in the relay.

SENIOR — BASKETBALL — JUNIOR

Coach Joe Murphy's senior basketmen battled their way to a third place tie by winning five out of the eight games which they played during the 1936 season.

Under the leadership of Captain HANSEN, the squad defeated Tuley, Marshall, McKinley, Wells, and Steinmetz. ANDERSON and VITACCO were outstanding in the season's play.

G. A. A.

The G. A. A. Program of this year has been most eventful.

Among the sports that were held in school as G. A. A. Activities were tennis, fencing, volley ball and swimming. Horseback riding and bowling were held outside of school.

Ethel Lindquist won a gold medal for having the best score in the bowling contest, and Rosemary Heiser won a bronze medal for having the second best.

A volley ball tournament was held between the East and West buildings for the first time, enabling the winners to earn more points toward an award.

As a contrast to all these sports, an escort dance was held in the Girls' West building gym, ending with the participants' hopes of going to another one soon.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

To climax a busy year a joint benefit carnival and picnic was held where the awards were given out.

Finally, for the club is several years old, a set of by-laws were drawn up by the Board members, placing the club on a more secure track for the years to come.

JUNIOR G. A. A.

The Junior G. A. A. is Girls' Athletic Association for the Freshmen and Sophomores. This organization was created November 19, 1925. The aims of the group are to develop efficiency of the body and to inspire higher ideals and standards of good sportsmanship in the hearts of all girls. By having the Association separate from its larger sister organization (of the more advanced grades), the girls entering high school from widely separated areas have an opportunity to know each other better before joining the larger group. The parties and other social events of the year have been numerous and marked by a great deal of originality and enthusiasm.

June Underwood was president for the fall semester, and Agnes McGraw for the spring term.
